Great game! I like ripper a lot when used in tight corridors, It does some dirty damage.. Too bad that I don't own that game currently. Maybe I should search it somewhere

The best FPS-game ever, imo. I play it every now and then and i love it, too bad alot of the online gamers cheat (atleast they did, don't know if it's still like that).

Never really liked UT, or actually any of the Unreal-games. They just didn't measure up to Quake. But it's not horrible, I guess

I liked those syringe things you could pick up in hidden areas (needed noclip mode on to get there) that when fired landed on the floor and a big automated turret was erected to fight for you. Made the game for me, I love shit like that.

I started playing in 1999, when the demo was just released and everybody was running around like headless chickens on Phobos or Coret. I became addicted because of my friendly neighbour, and to this day I still play at least a game of UT daily. The clan I was in won some stuff, too. We won a Eurocup trophy against Inzane that lives its present life as an ashtray, and some other miscellaneous stuff like hardware. Those were good times. Oh and free Clanbase t-shirts.

Right now I only play on one server, Rocketface. Rockets only, Face only, it doesn't get much lamer, but I enjoy it as much as tubgirl loves tub. That's a lot.
